

Michael F. Malinowski AIA

Michael F. Malinowski has been providing adaptive historic re-use, urban infill, affordable housing, single family residential, and commercial revitalization design solutions for 34 years as principal of Applied Architecture, Sacramento CA. Mike is an alumnus of the University of Michigan active with the AIA for over 35 years, where his service has ranged from presidency of his local component to the National Board Directors (2012-2014). Mike was elected Vice President/President Elect of the 11,000 member AIA California Council for 2015-2016.

A volunteer with the City of Sacramento for decades, Michael has chaired its Development Oversight Commission, Preservation Board, and Design Review Boards. In 2008, he was named one of the Sacramento Region's "100 Most Influential Persons".

Mike founded the "Code Conversation" Program 12 years ago, which forges solid relationships between design professionals and code officials. Michael has been fostering more effective and efficient permit processing nationally through public speaking, consulting with municipalities, and sharing best practices and research on PermitStreamline.Com.
